Hobbies

In my leisure time, I indulge in listening to a diverse range of songs and music genres, finding inspiration and relaxation in their melodies. I also have a keen interest in video editing, where I enjoy expressing creativity through the manipulation of visuals and sound. Additionally, I actively participate in local coding meetups and hackathons, engaging with fellow enthusiasts and contributing to collaborative projects. These hobbies not only fuel my passion for technology but also foster teamwork and creativity beyond the boundaries of the workplace.
